

Department of Conservation Ranger, Kakapo

- Temporary, (3 x positions)
- Location: Invercargill
- Job reference: DOC/400/8530TE

Are you someone who is passionate about conservation and loves field work? If yes, then this is the job for you!

You will work with a highly dedicated team and contribute significantly to kākāpō conservation during a kākāpō breeding season.

This position is for a fixed period of 1 year. The successful applicants will be based out of Invercargill but will spend most of the time based on remote islands on a 4 week on, 2 week off roster.

We are looking for three responsible and reliable team players, who are not afraid of hard work, and who have the following skills:

- a good basic knowledge of threatened species conservation
- excellent field work skills
- excellent communication skills and an ability to get on with people
- a high level of self-awareness and ability to work in isolated locations, sometimes at night, with both small and large groups for 4 weeks at a time
- good level of fitness
- current full NZ driver's licence
- first aid certificate
- telemetry and bird handling skills are highly desirable

Eligibility to work in New Zealand is mandatory, including a valid work visa covering the whole period of employment if applying internationally.

For more information or to apply online, go to;
https://careers.doc.govt.nz/jobtools/jncustomsearch.viewFullSingle?in_organid=18174&in_jnCounter=223217264&in_site=ConservationJobs

Applications close: 15th May 2018.